HUNTING AND FISHING REGULATIONS

CTGR Tribal Member: Any person whose name appears on the enrollment records of the CTGR.

CTGR Tribal Elder. A Tribal Elder is any enrolled member of the CTGR who is 55 years of age or older.

Non-Tribal Member: CTGR classifies all individuals not enrolled as non-tribal members. These individuals are subject to non-member Permit/Tag fees and hunting periods that may differ from CTGR Tribal Member hunts (both fees and periods).

CTGR Tribal Member Spouse: Any person who is legally married to a CTGR Tribal Member. CTGR does not recognize common law marriage for hunting purposes. A valid marriage certificate must be submitted with the application to prove marriage

Permits: All individuals hunting must be in possession of valid Permit, also referred to as "Tags", at all times. Permits must be completely filled out at the time wildlife game is taken.

Age Eligibility Requirement. CTGR Tribal Members must be at least 12 years old to obtain a Permit/Tag for hunting and must be accompanied by any adult (18 years of age or older) for all hunting activities.

CTGR Tribal Identification. CTGR Tribal Members are encouraged to carry their CTGR tribally issued identification cards on their person while engaged in hunting and fishing.

CTGR Tribal Elder Proxy Hunting. A CTGR Tribal Elder may allow another eligible CTGR Tribal Member to hunt for them in any hunt. The CTGR Tribal Elder must submit a request to the Business Council that a CTGR Tribal Member be allowed to hunt on his/her behalf. The request must specifically designate the name of the hunter. The Business Council and the designated hunter must be given a copy of the request. The Business Council must approve, in writing, the request prior to the hunt.

Non-Tribal Member Accompaniment: CTGR Tribal Members may have 1 non-member accompany him/her to assist with the hunt and/or harvest (take). However, if any non-member is caught possessing a firearm, the CTGR Tribal Member will be subject to loss of hunting privileges.

Harvest Reporting: For game tracking and management purposes, all hunters must report harvest information to any Business Council Member or Law Enforcement Officer. All hunters must comply with Business Council procedures to ensure accountability.

Bull Elk Teeth Requirements: In order to track the ages of the bull elk, all hunters who harvest bull elks pursuant to this proclamation are required to turn in to any Business Council Member, or to the Business Council Secretary, the bottom two front teeth (incisors). If these teeth are not turned in, the hunter shall not be eligible for permits for the following 2 years.

Prohibition on Sale of Permit/Tags: All Permit/Tags must be used by the CTGR Tribal Member, or other authorized individual, initially assigned the tag, either by draw or by purchase. Any sale of a Permit/Tag after draw and/or purchase, is strictly prohibited.

Waste: All game taken pursuant to this proclamation must be used for subsistence purposes. Any waste of game is strictly prohibited.

Hunting Violations: Hunting outside of specified hunting dates and harvesting a game animal without a Permit/Tag is NOT permitted. Any person who hunts outside specific dates or without a Permit/Tag may be subject to civil and/or criminal prosecution, in a court with applicable jurisdiction.

Prosecution: Any violation of this Proclamation, Ordinance 88-ORD-01, or the Civil Trespass Ordinance is considered an offense against CTGR laws which may be punishable by any appropriate civil or criminal penalties, including revocation of fishing and hunting permits, confiscation and forfeiture of equipment, and any other authorized penalties.

Hunter Education Course Card. Any persons born after December 31, 1965, are encouraged to have a valid Hunter Education Course Card. For more information on obtaining a Hunter Education Card, please check with Utah or Nevada Wildlife Department on upcoming classes.
