

Hello Confederated Tribes of the Goshute Tribal Members! My name is Chuck L. Naranjo, my native name is Tevu (Walking on Hot Sand). My parents are Dennis and Norma Naranjo, my grandparents are Alvin and Rosa Steele Naranjo. I am pleased to announce my intent to run for tribal council. I currently work for Sacred Circle Health Care at the Goshute Clinic as the Wellness Coordinator for the Diabetes Program. You may also know me as Native Richard Simmons. This compliments one of my values, which is service to the people and caring for our elders and youth.

If nominated for council my priorities would include:

1. Representation for all tribal members to include those who live off the reservation;
2. Communication regarding tribal meetings, events, important activities/outcomes and resources via phone, zoom, media platforms and in-person;
3. Advocating on behalf of the Tribe's priorities in regard to education, land conservation and community care;
4. Promoting health and wellness by supporting activities and programs which focus on a healthy lifestyle.

My promise to you is to place the needs of our Tribe first. This will be accomplished by making myself available and transparent. In the next few weeks I would like to visit with you and hear your concerns. Please feel free to reach out to me with ideas or changes you would like to see; this also includes things that are going well.
